Building the Business Case to Invest in Safety Programs - Real Cost of Injuries

Many healthcare organizations have not realized the true cost of worker injuries. As a result, they do not recognize the positive financial impact of a strong employee safety program. This webinar will explore the real and hidden costs associated with healthcare related injuries. It will also provide insight into how to build a business case for injury prevention for senior leadership. Learn how leading organizations are implementing effective programs to reduce costs quickly.

This webinar will help you to:

- Better understand both the direct and indirect costs related to employee injuries
- Build a business case to help support injury prevention programs at your healthcare facility
- Obtain best practices and success stories from other organizations that have implemented successful injury prevention programs

The Presenter:

Christy Foster, Director, Healthcare, BSI EHS Services and Solutions

- Over 20 years of EHS experience in the public and private sectors including the healthcare, biotech, semiconductor, and manufacturing industries
- Led worker injury prevention projects for some of the most respected healthcare institutions in the nation, resulting in millions of dollars in savings and significant incident reductions
- Co-founder of the EHSENTIALS Symposium for healthcare EHS and a lecturer for the San Jose State University Engineering Department
